

MumboJumbo Timeline

2001

January

- MumboJumbo established.

February

- MumboJumbo hires Macintosh programmers, focusing exclusively on developing games for the Mac.

October

- MumboJumbo develops Myth III: The Wolf Age for the PC under Take-Two Interactive's "GodGames" label.

2002

November

- MumboJumbo releases the retail version of Bejeweled and Alchemy for the Mac.

2003

March

- MumboJumbo partners with GameHouse to publish their most popular online games (Super Collapse!, Super Nisqually! and Super Glinx!) on CD-ROMs for the PC and Mac in national retail outlets.

April

- MumboJumbo releases Power Chips and High Roller on a single CD-ROM as well as Snowball Run for the PC and Mac.

September

- MumboJumbo partners with Activision to release classic gaming collection Activision® Anthology: Remix Edition for the PC.

October

- MumboJumbo releases Equilibria and Chainz for the PC and Mac.

November

- MumboJumbo partners with Astraware Limited to bring key titles Equilibria, Chainz and Snowball Run to the Palm OS and Pocket PC handheld devices.

December

- MumboJumbo releases UltraBall for the PC.

- MumboJumbo partners with Vivendi Universal Games for PC publishing and distribution rights to Mace Griffin Bounty Hunter.

2004

February

- MumboJumbo releases Hard Rock Casino for the PC.

July

- MumboJumbo partners with PopCap Games for exclusive retail distribution of Bejeweled 2, Zuma Deluxe and Rocket Mania.

August - October

- MumboJumbo releases Lemonade Tycoon 2: New York Edition, Ricochet: Lost Worlds and Jewel Quest for the PC.

2005

March - May

- MumboJumbo releases LUXOR and Poker Superstars for the PC.

September

- MumboJumbo partners with eFlyte to make games available on in-flight entertainment.

2006

January

- MumboJumbo acquires development studio Zono, Inc. to provide the necessary resources to move its top properties to handheld consoles.

February

- MumboJumbo releases Polar Games and Wildlife Tycoon: Venture Africa for the PC.

March

- MumboJumbo releases Mosaic: Tomb of Mystery and 7 Wonders of the Ancient World for the PC.

May

- MumboJumbo enters into an agreement to develop a series of games exclusively for Yahoo! Games.
- MumboJumbo releases Super Collapse! 2 for the PC.

September

- MumboJumbo partners with developer Reflexive Entertainment to bring three titles to retail, including Big Kahuna Reef 2: Chain Reaction and Mosaic: Tomb of Mystery.

October

- MumboJumbo partners with King.com to make LUXOR available for skill-based gaming.
- MumboJumbo releases LUXOR 2 for the PC.
- MumboJumbo brings Cubis 2 for the PC to retail.

November

- MumboJumbo launches new division to capitalize on explosive growth of casual games in the European market and signs distribution deal with Eidos to release six PC games to European retail.
- LUXOR 2 maintains the #1 selling casual game position on RealArcade for four weeks following launch.
- MumboJumbo releases its first titles in the console market LUXOR: The Wrath of Set and Platypus, both for the PSP® (PlayStation®Portable) system.

2007

January

- MumboJumbo partners with Microsoft to bring Hexic Deluxe and Mozaki Blocks Deluxe, both from the creator of Tetris, to retail.
- MumboJumbo enters partnership with Nickelodeon to publish Charlotte's Web: Word Rescue, Neopets and Avatar: The Last Airbender.
- MumboJumbo acquires development studio Ritual Entertainment to further solidify the company's presence as one of the largest casual game studios in the industry.

February

- LUXOR 2 wins Zeebys Casual Games Awards for "Best Audio" and "Best Visual Arts" for 2006.

April

- MumboJumbo launches its first title on the Xbox LIVE® Arcade, LUXOR 2.

June

- MumboJumbo signs exclusive development and publishing deal with Universal Pictures Digital Platforms Group to develop The Office game.

July

- MumboJumbo acquired game development studio Hot Lava and names former CEO, Matt Lichtenwalter, as MumboJumbo's Vice President of Product Development.

August

- King.com partnership established to allow for cash gameplay at MumboJumbo.com.

December

- MumboJumbo brings LUXOR: Pharaoh's Challenge across consoles with the launch of versions for the PSP® (PlayStation®Portable) system, Nintendo DS™ the PlayStation®2.

2008

January

- MumboJumbo launches its first title for the Nintendo Wii™, LUXOR: Pharaoh's Challenge.

February

- MumboJumbo publishes Mortimer Beckett for retailers nationwide.
- Elements, a swap-and-match game is launched online.

March

- MumboJumbo releases Chicken Hunter for the Nintendo DS, Poker Superstars III: Gold Chip Challenge for PC and Build-a-lot for PC at retail stores across the country.

April

- Polar Games 2, sequel to the retail smash hit Polar Games, and Blokus launch at retail.

June

- Discovery! A Seek & Find Adventure developed by MumboJumbo releases as a Big Fish Games exclusive.

July

- Wildfire's Jungo is released at retailers nationwide, and Elf Bowling Hawaiian Vacation is launched digitally.

August

- MumboJumbo debuts first game for popular social network Facebook, Little Farm.

October

- MumboJumbo introduces a new genre, the casual adventure, with the launch of the new Samantha Swift franchise of titles. The games combine elements of seek-and-find and adventure games.

November

- LUXOR: Quest for the Afterlife is released for the PC as a digital download.

December

- LUXOR 3 for the Wii platform is released at retailers nationwide.

2009

January

- MumboJumbo signs distribution deal with phenomedia to distribute line of Crazy Chicken titles for the Nintendo DS system.

July

- Celebrating the 200th anniversary of Edgar Allan Poe, MumboJumbo launches Midnight Mysteries franchise of titles.

October

- Everyday Genius: SquareLogic, an innovative next step in the Sudoku style of numeric puzzle games, launches digitally. Developed by TrueThought and published/distributed by MumboJumbo.

November

- LUXOR Adventures, a hybrid marble-shooter, hidden-object game, debuts from MumboJumbo.

December

- MumboJumbo signs on with Tribeka for distribution at Microsoft Sotres.
- Samantha Swift and the Mystery from Atlantis launches with portal partners.

